Yes, I'm leaving a comment on limiting the construction to five days. I am not opposed to limiting work on construction sites to five days but think it has to be open on Mondays and closed Saturdays. Saturday's hours of work are already limited and I would think neighbors would be happier to have no construction on Saturday. However, I do question that this closure will have any effect on the social distancing issues and worry this could make a job site more crowded by eliminating one day to complete work. I am currently in charge of a job site and we are strictly enforcing all the safety practices issued by the state, county and city and appreciate the guidelines to help everyone to stay safe and healthy. I think keeping the job sites safe is imperative as is keeping it open. Thank you, my name is Jerry Hayward.
