November 2nd– Pirates of the Caribbean - Dead Man's Chest

(PG-13 for action/adventure violence)

Legend has it that Davy Jones lives beneath the sea with a terrible sea beast at his command. Unfortunately for Captain Jack Sparrow, this particular legend is very real. This is especially bad news for Will Turner and Elizabeth Swann, who always get caught up in Jack's mishaps. If Jack can't find a way to rid himself of Davy Jones, it may spell the end for the three adventurers.

November 9th - We Are Marshall

(PG for emotional thematic material, a crash scene and mild language.)

When a plane crash claims the lives of members of the Marshall University football team and some of its fans, the team's new coach and his surviving players try to keep the football program alive.

November 16th - High School Musical

(Rated G - General Audiences)

Popular basketball team captain Troy and smart, stunning academic Gabriella both shock the members of the social cliques to which they belong when they each decide to audition for the high school's musical. By proving themselves to be brilliant performers, can these two teens lead their peers towards more open-minded thinking and acceptance of one another? HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL is a family-appropriate feature filled with hip music, popular dance moves, and tons of school spirit.

November 30th - Waitress

(PG-13 for sexual content, language, and thematic elements)

As a favorite waitress at Joe's Diner, Jenna is also a "pie genius," naming her tantalizing confections after the tumultuous events and emotions of her daily life. She's hoping that one of her pastries might even change her life--if she can just win that $25,000 pie contest. But when Jenna discovers that she's pregnant, she immediately bakes an "I Don't Want Earl's Baby" Pie--a quiche of egg and cheese with a smoked ham center. After all, Earl is a jealous jerk that is essentially a child himself, and the last thing they need to do is start a family. But the pregnancy changes the course of events in her life, giving her an unexpected and new found confidence via letters to her unborn baby.
