Without knowing all of the incidences that led up to the measures put on the Residence Inn, it is hard to determine their fairness. However, I hope that circumstance at this establishment will be revisited and the measures adjusted accordingly. Rules set in stone seem to apply an unfair burden of doing business (specifically: length of stay, no same day or walk-in reservations, and room rates). I have no idea if COVID shutdowns have turned their rooms into mini party houses.

I register my disagreement with the recent "masking" of the Police/Fire facility. Not only is it ugly and disrupts open space/air flow, but if changes are needed to the architecture, which underwent considerable design review, then such should go through the council. Further, I was told this change was necessary as "personnel do not want their license plates photographed." Not only does this irony make me laugh, but clearly that could happen as people enter the facility, so sounds make up.

Again, this item description is too broad to meet Brown Act muster.

What is unsettling is that these funds, particular for a city as rich as M.B., should be used for ADDITIONAL, incremental equipment or parks, not to provide funding for replacement equipment that should be funded by a regular maintenance fund. In effect, this is just county parks money going to augment something other than parks, and allowing you folks to be negligent in your budgeting.

Again, this is not an expenditure that was intended when folks voted for this tax. Again, M.B. should fund its own replacements with its own general fund, or develop its own CIP funding source. Additional grant funds from the county should be used for incremental development. Plus, this project has become way too expensive, and was not properly disclosed from inception as to this cost increase. Don't let grant funds provide an escape from bad process.

I don't propose the Downtown Merchants pay for the services that impact downtown (mainly because the beach is the attraction more than the shops), but it should be remembered that this service directly benefits their businesses when in future years the DBPA comes asking for allowances.

As is typical, the presented budget from a business group is deficient to the point of intended obfuscation. And, again, it is the revenue from the farmer's market (an unrelated business activity per the IRS), due to inadequate city space rent, which allows the group to fund their advocacy at City Hall. That's wrong.

Parking should be a market rates to ensure only 80% occupancy--that is best practice. Zonal pricing makes more sense than what is being proposed. Follow the science, not the expedient or political.

We already have too many full liquor licenses downtown. Too much of community attention and expenditures is being driven disproportionately downtown due to this excess. I fear the only people benefiting are a few restaurateurs and their landlords.
